

“Part Stephen King, part Chuck Palahniuk, INFECTED blends science fiction and horror into a pulpy masterpiece of action, terror, and suspense. Three recommendations: don’t read it at night, or just after you’ve eaten a full meal, or if you’re weak of heart. You’ve been warned!”

—James Rollins, New York Times bestselling author THE JUDAS STRAIN and BLACK ORDER

SURE TO BE THE BLOCKBUSTER BOOK OF SUMMER 2008!

The fate of the human race may depend on an everyman's bloody battle against a mysterious parasite that hijacks his body and pushes his thoughts into a psychotic rage. Ordinary people are suddenly turning into raving, paranoid murderers, possessed with inhuman strength and immune to pain.

A wet-ops specialist working for the CIA, risks his life trying to stop these possessed killers before they strike at those around them.

A CDC scientist working under conditions of top secrecy, begins dissecting the corpses of these killers. What she discovers is terrifying: all of them have strange, triangular growths under their skin. They've all been infected by some sort of parasite...and these parasites are not natural, but manufactured.

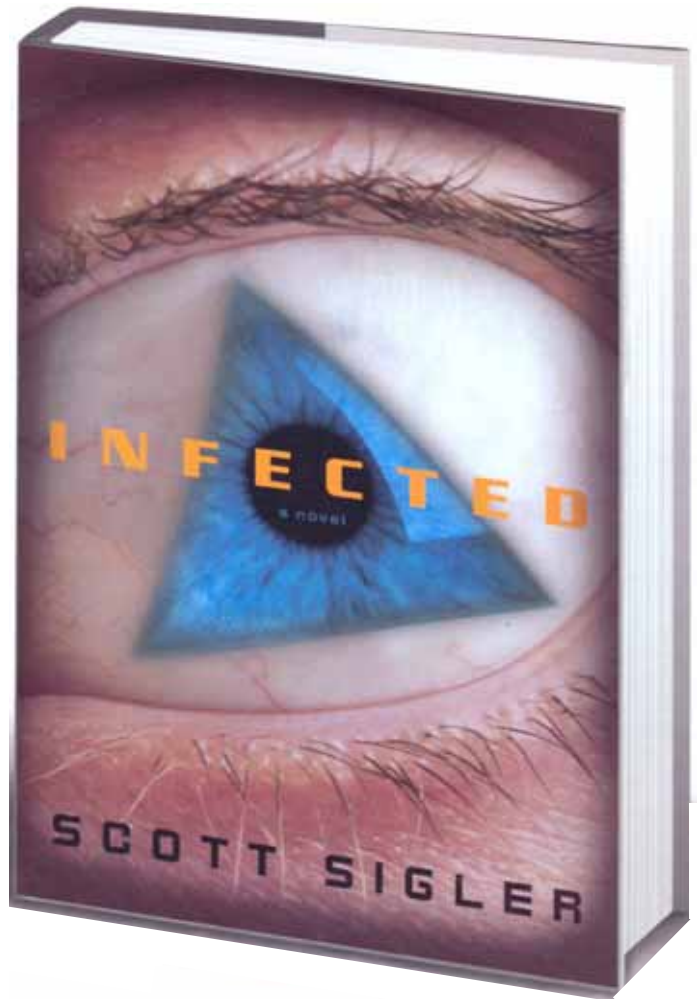

And in a small town, a former football star finds three strange welts growing on his body and finds himself acting strangely, hearing voices. He is infested and the parasites want something from him...
