Donald Ray Pollock
THE DEVIL ALL THE TIME:

A Novel
 The short story author (Knockemstiff) delivers his first novel, filled with twisted intensity and dark characters. Set in rural southern Ohio and West Virginia we follow a cast of compelling and bizarre characters from the end of WWII to the 1960s: a tormented veteran, a husband-and-wife team of serial killers, a spider-handling preacher — and a son just trying to be a good man. Chillicothe, OH

SUSPENSE

Christopher Boucher
HOW TO KEEP YOUR VOLKSWAGEN ALIVE

A hilarious radical debut novel that breaks every rule—yet also spins a tender, bittersweet tale about a single dad struggling to raise his son. Modeled on the bestselling 1969 hippie handbook of the same title, this wildly inventive tale is both a stunning tour-de-force and a wise and charming consideration of the stuff of great fiction: death, love, loss, responsibility, and road trips. Boston, MA

Vanessa Diffenbaugh
THE LANGUAGE OF FLOWERS: A Novel

In Victorian times, the language of flowers was used to express a wide range of romantic emotions. But for Victoria Jones, it's been more useful in communicating things like grief, mistrust, and solitude. After a childhood spent in the foster care system, she is unable to get close to anybody, and her only solace is in flowers and the meanings they convey. But it takes meeting a mysterious vendor at the flower market for Victoria to realize what's been missing in her own life, and as she starts to fall for him, she's forced to confront a painful secret from her past, and decide whether it's worth risking everything for a second chance at happiness. The Language of Flowers is an extraordinary story about love, second chances, and the true meaning of family. Cambridge, MA

THE STRANGER YOU SEEK

Keye Street is chasing down bail jumpers (and dodging flying bottles) when she is given one last shot by the Atlanta Police Department. They need her expertise as a former FBI profiler to bring a serial killer to justice, one who has eluded them for years and is now taunting them in the headlines. With a brilliant forensic eye, a wicked sense of humor, and edge-of-your-seat twists, Williams introduces a brash, flawed, human heroine, and gives her the first case of what will be a series destined to keep readers awake far into the night. Decatur, GA

Isabel Wilkerson

THE WARMTH OF OTHER SUNS: The Epic Story of America's Great Migration

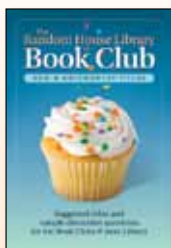

Pulitzer Prize-winner Wilkerson chronicles one of the great untold stories of American history: the decades-long migration of six million black citizens who fled the South for northern and western cities, in search of a better life. A definitive and vividly dramatic account. An ALA Notable Book. Atlanta

WORD HERO: A Fiendishly Clever
Guide to Crafting the Lines that Get Laughs, Go Viral, and Live Forever

The author of the surprise hit Thank You for Arguing returns with a step-by-step guide that shows how you, too, can deliver that perfectly witty, memorable, quotable line — and achieve heroism in just a few words. This is pop reference at its best, as entertaining as it is informative.

COOKING

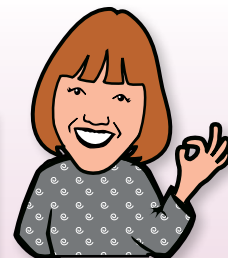

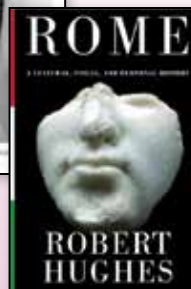

ON OUR RADAR

The sixth in the best-selling Dexter series by Jeff Lindsay, Double Dexter (978-0-385-53237-2), finds our hero not happy to discover that someone is shadowing him, observing him, and copying his methods! NOT to be tolerated!! Full of smart suspense and dark laughs. Remains Showtime's #1-rated show.

I'm a sucker for celebrity bios and here's a winner — Spencer Tracy (978-0-307-26289-9). James Curtis has a complex subject. Tracy was a difficult and dark individual who made 73 pictures, nine with Katharine Hepburn. He battled alcoholism, was Catholic, married with a deaf son, and had a decades-long love affair with Hepburn. Yowza!

Feel the need to escape? Dive into Rome: A Cultural, Visual, and Personal History (978-0-307-26844-0) by the great critic Robert Hughes. You'll be guaranteed a smart, entertaining and impassioned overview of a city both breath-takingly lovely, and overwhelmingly touristy. Bring back memories of your trip to Rome or be motivated to put it on your must list of places to see.

I absolutely loved The Language of Flowers (978-0-345-52554-3) about a young girl in the foster care system who finds solace and second chances in the Victorian meaning of flowers, a first novel by Vanessa Diffenbaugh—quite possibly the sweetest author ever. But I was horrified to learn the meaning behind my wedding flowers, hydrangeas. Oops!

As a child of the 80's I can't wait to read Ready Player One (978-0-307-88743-6) which is getting a lot of in-house buzz.

Being touted for fans of The Hunger Games and The Maze Runner (That's me!), Dearly, Departed (978-0-345-52331-0) is at the top of my stack.

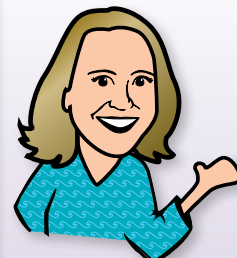

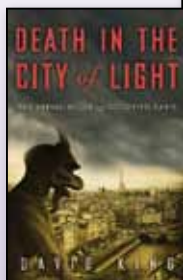

After reading and loving Michelle Moran's Madame Tussaud, I can't get enough of the French revolution, so I'm looking forward to reading Becoming Marie Antoinette (978-0-345-52386-0), the first in a paperback original trilogy. A natural for book clubs!

Readers of Erik Larson's bestselling In the Garden of Beasts will be thrilled when you recommend Death in the City of Light (Crown, 978-0-307-45289-4) as a unique historical narrative on Nazi-occupied Paris. For more, see page 2.

Librarians at BEA were already raving about this hot title, Ready Player One (Crown, 978-307-71987-4)! One of those sure bets your readers' advisory staff can booktalk to anyone from "18 to 81." But don't stop there! See page 3.

Mindy Kaling should be my new BFF. She's a cross between the angelic Tina Fey and saucy Chelsea Handler. Just what every girl needs for some comedic release! For more about Is Everyone Hanging Out Without Me (And Other Concerns) see page 12.

Sailor Moon (978-1-935429-74-6) is where the American manga craze all began. Now it's back in print after being off the market for at least seven years! The gigantic success of the Sailor Moon manga showed that there was a huge audience here, and it opened the floodgates to material from Japan. Without Sailor Moon, the manga explosion of the last decade might never have happened.

Ilsa J. Bick's new post-apocalyptic thriller, Ashes (978-1-60684-175-4), will have readers dying to find out what happens next, but scared enough to hesitate when turning the page. It could happen tomorrow...A cataclysmic event. An army of zombie-like monsters chasing them. Can Alex—a kick-ass heroine in the mold of Katniss—really survive...and who can she trust?

Yes, hockey is one of my top passions—and I think Mike Brophy's My First NHL Goal (978-0-7710-1682-0) is a must-have for every hockey fan. Every player who ever scored in the NHL has a different story about his first goal. For some, like Wayne Gretzky, Gordie Howe, or Phil Esposito, their first goal was just one of many they would score in their long and illustrious careers. For others, their first goal was also their last.
